Anne Sherrington, Trewidland resident and secretary at Trewidland school, attended to explain the work that has taken place there over the last two months following the successful application for funding of £5000 from the RHS to increase biodiversity on the school grounds. Local experts and suppliers have been used to transform three areas, including a pond many people didn't know was there. Children from the school have been fully involved with this work and will continue to observe and nurture the natural life which they hope will be encouraged to visit. The Chair thanked Anne for her sterling work and councillors responded with a round of applause.

Cornwall Councillor Jane Pascoe reported that: there had been a unanimous decision to pause the use of glyphosate by Cornwall Council/Cormac; had passed on complaints about the lack of notice for parish councils who would have to fund the use of glyphosate alternatives; work is underway to create a new Cornwall Local Plan (see Item 054D below); notes further complaints about the potential lack of infrastructure arising from the Call for Sites exercise; rail operator GWR will transfer to public ownership on 13 December 2026 and expects current services to be maintained;
